IQAMAH

FOR EVERY MUSLIM AND EVERY MASJID

Everything Iqamah does

Your masjid's iqamah times, the adhan on time, the Quran and Hadith, the Qibla, and your prayer times on your phone, watch, TV and your masjid's own website. Free, with no ads.

Free · No ads, ever · iPhone · iPad · Mac · Apple Watch · Android · Android TV · Fire TV · Web

AT A GLANCE

One companion for the whole day of worship

Iqamah began with a simple question: when is the jama'ah at my masjid? It has grown into a full companion for daily worship, and a set of free tools that let any masjid put its times in front of its community, wherever they look.

8,800+
masajid with iqamah times, worldwide

100+
Quran translations in 47 languages, and 13 tafsirs

1,000+
certified halal restaurants and butchers

0 ads, now or ever

In this guide

01 Prayer and iqamah times
02 The adhan, on time
03 Qibla
04 Masajid, near and far
05 The Quran
06 Hadith and dhikr
07 Halal, Halaqah and more
08 A display for the desk
09 Make it yours
10 Widgets
11 Apple Watch
12 Iqamah TV
13 For masjids
14 Languages
15 Our promise

THE IQAMAH APP · IPHONE, IPAD, MAC AND ANDROID

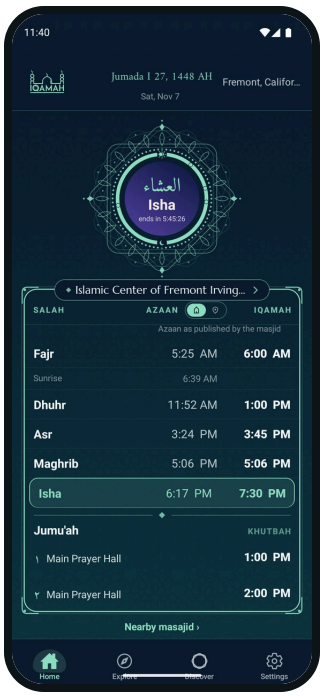

Prayer and iqamah times

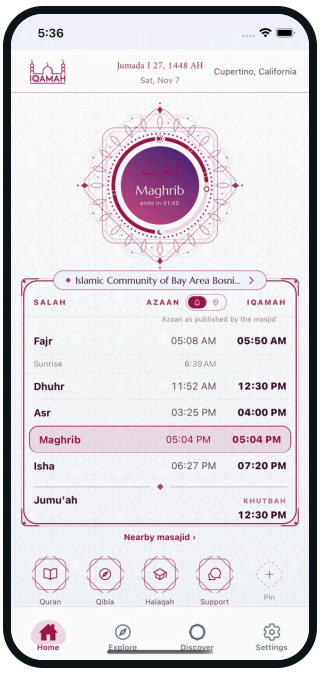

Open the app and the day is in front of you: which prayer you are in, how long is left, and when your masjid will pray each salah together.

HOME

Your day, on a ring

Home is the medallion. Its ring is the whole day: midnight at the foot, noon at the top, the solid arc showing how much of the day has passed. Each dot is a prayer. The heart names the prayer you are in, in Arabic and in your language, and counts down to the end of its time.

Azaan and iqamah, side by side

- Below the medallion, today's table shows the azaan and iqamah time for every salah, with sunrise between Fajr and Dhuhr.
- One switch chooses between the azaan times your masjid publishes and the times calculated for where you are.
- Iqamah times come straight from the masjid, shown exactly as they publish them.
- Jumu'ah lists every session your masjid holds, with the khateeb and the hall.
- The Hijri date and your location sit at the top of the screen.

12 calculation methods

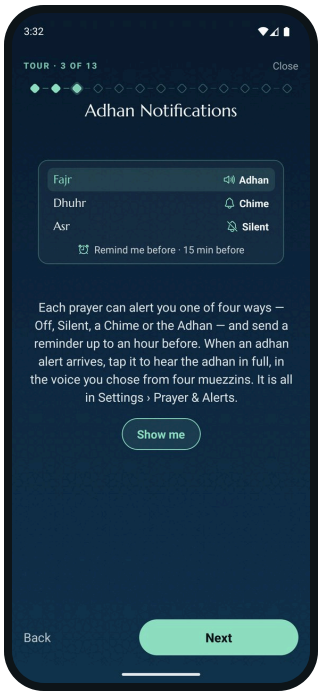

ISNA, Muslim World League, Umm al-Qura, Karachi, Egypt, Diyanet, MUIS, JAKIM and more, with Shafi'i or Hanafi Asr.

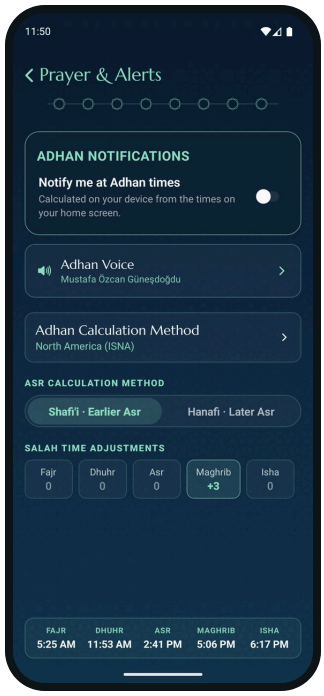

Your own adjustments

Nudge any prayer by a few minutes, and set custom Fajr and Isha angles where your community follows its own.

Pinned shortcuts

Up to four favourites from Discover sit under the prayer table: Quran, Qibla, Halaqah, Tasbih or whatever you open most.

ADHAN NOTIFICATIONS

The adhan, on time

Each prayer can alert you in one of four ways: off, silent, a chime, or the adhan itself. A reminder can come up to an hour before, so you have time to make wudu and get to the masjid.

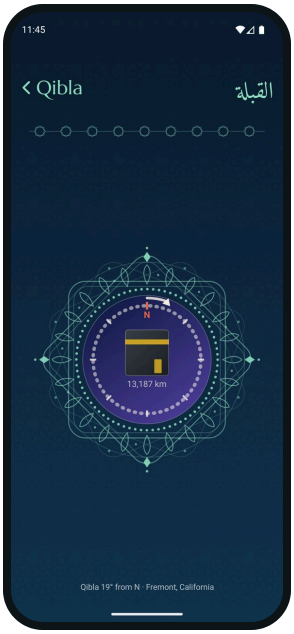

- Tap an adhan alert to hear the full adhan, not just a clip.
- Choose the voice from four muezzins, including Mustafa Özcan Güneşdoğdu and Mishary Alafasy.
- Fajr gets its own adhan, with ٱلصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنَ ٱلنَّوْمِ, "prayer is better than sleep".
- Every choice is per prayer, in Settings › Prayer & Alerts.

QIBLA

Qibla

The compass wears the same ornament as the medallion. Hold the phone flat and turn until the needle sits at the top: the bearing beneath it is the direction to the Kaaba from where you stand, and the distance to it is shown too.

- Works offline once your location is known.
- Also on the map, and on iPhone as a Home Screen and Lock Screen widget.

MASAJID

Masajid, near and far

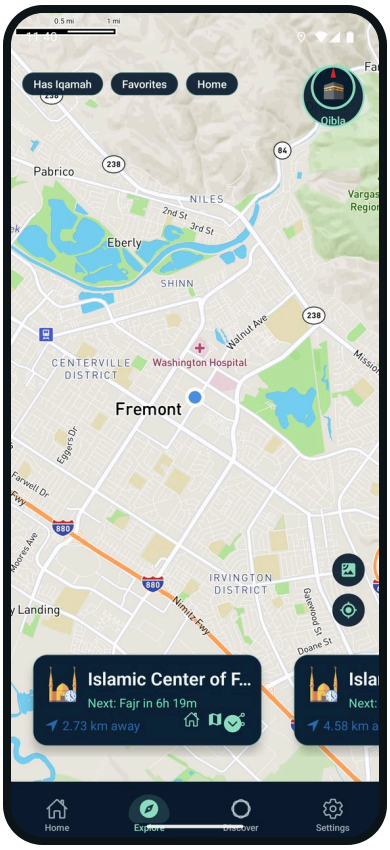

More than 8,800 masajid around the world, each with its address, contact details and, where the masjid publishes them, its iqamah and Jumu'ah times.

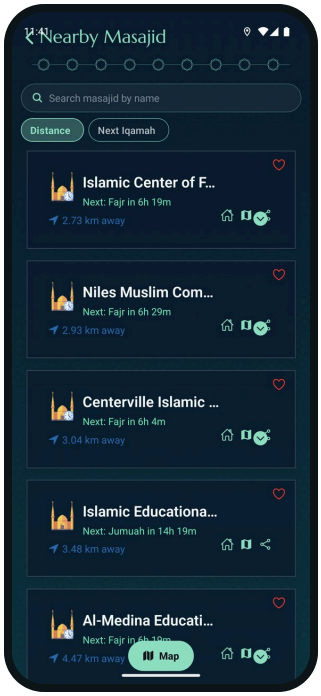

EXPLORE

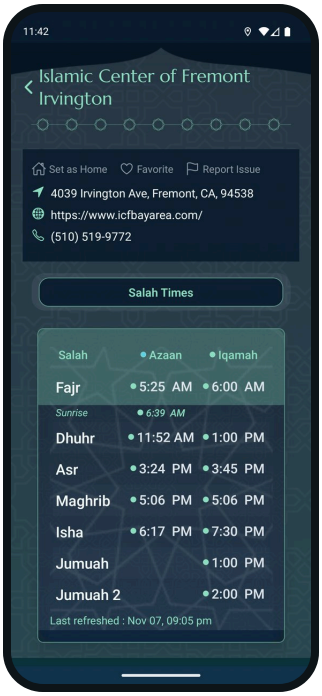

The map, anywhere in the world

The Explore tab is a map of masajid. Look anywhere, your own street, another city or the other side of the world, and the masajid there appear the moment the map stops moving. To stay readable it shows twenty at a time; zoom in and more appear.

- Swipe the cards along the bottom to move between masajid, each with its next prayer and distance.
- Show only masajid with iqamah times, your favourites or your Home masjid.
- A satellite view, and a small compass in the corner that opens the Qibla.

NEARBY MASAJID

Find the next jama'ah

- Nearby masajid lists the masajid around you with their iqamah times. Sort by distance, or by the next iqamah to find the soonest jama'ah.
- Search by name or in another city, and widen the search from nearby to worldwide.
- Open a masjid for any day's timetable, its address, website and phone number, and directions in the maps app you prefer. Swipe sideways to the next masjid.
- Star the masajid you pray at, and set the one you go to most as Home. Its times then lead the Home screen.

QURAN

The Quran, to read and to memorise

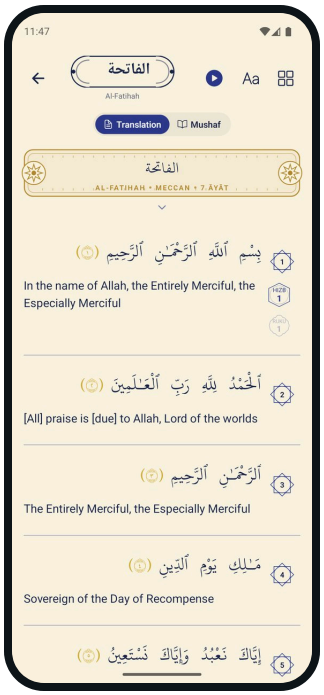

A study Quran and a printed Mushaf in one place, with recitation that keeps playing when you lock your phone.

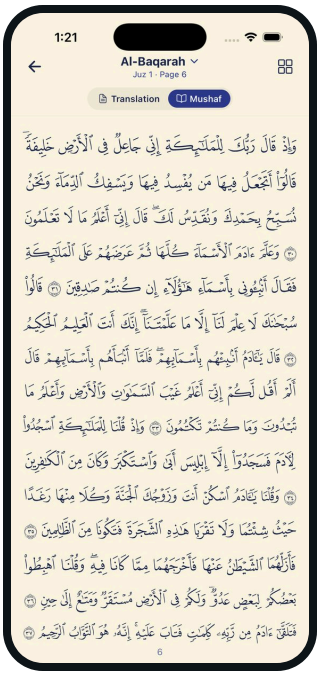

Read and study

- Read verse by verse with more than a hundred translations in 47 languages, and 13 tafsirs alongside.
- Colour-coded tajweed on the Arabic, if you want it, and juz, hizb and ruku markers.
- Browse by surah or by juz. Press and hold a verse to bookmark it.

The Mushaf

Switch to the Mushaf for all 604 pages of the 15-line Madani Mushaf, page for page as printed, in the King Fahd Complex's Hafs typesetting. It is on your phone, so it reads offline.

Listen, even with the screen locked

Five reciters can recite any surah aloud. Recitation carries on when your phone locks, with play, pause and skip on the Lock Screen and in notifications.

Memorise (hifz)

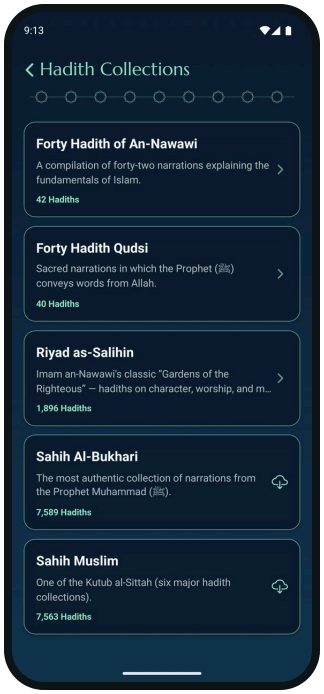

The memorisation player repeats one ayah, or a range of them, as many times as you set, so you can learn a passage by heart.

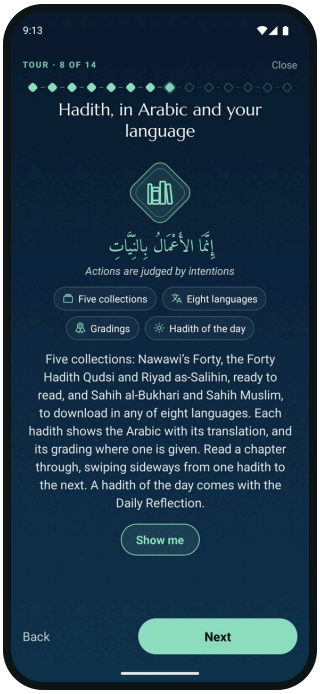

HADITH AND DHIKR

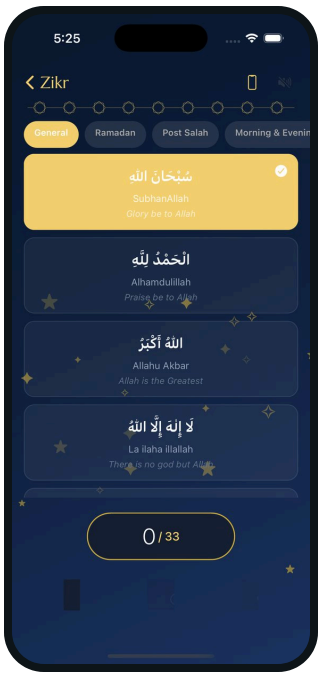

Hadith, in Arabic and your language

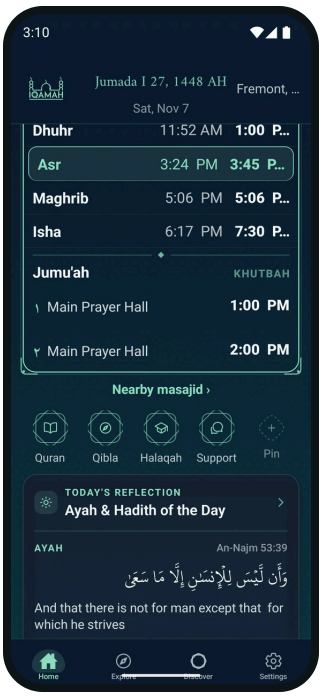

Five collections. Nawawi's Forty, the Forty Hadith Qudsi and Riyad as-Salihin are ready to read. Sahih al-Bukhari and Sahih Muslim download in any of eight languages: English, Urdu, French, Bengali, Indonesian, Russian, Tamil and Turkish.

- Each hadith shows the Arabic with its translation, and its grading where one is given.
- Read a chapter through, swiping sideways from one hadith to the next.
- A hadith of the day comes with the Daily Reflection.

TASBIH

Tasbih, adhkar and your own wird

- 83 adhkar in 19 categories: morning and evening, after salah, before sleep, Ramadan and more, each with its Arabic and meaning.
- A tasbih counter that keeps count for you.
- Add your own adhkar, and build a wird to follow step by step.

DAILY REFLECTION

An ayah and a hadith, every day

Each day brings an ayah and a hadith to reflect on: on Home, as a widget, on the Apple Watch and on Iqamah TV. Listen to the ayah, open its surah, or share both with family and friends.

DISCOVER

Halal places, Halaqah and more

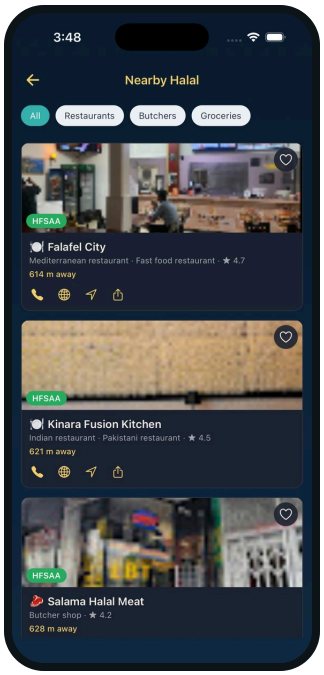

Discover is the app's index: everything Iqamah offers, one tap away. Press and hold any of it to pin it to Home.

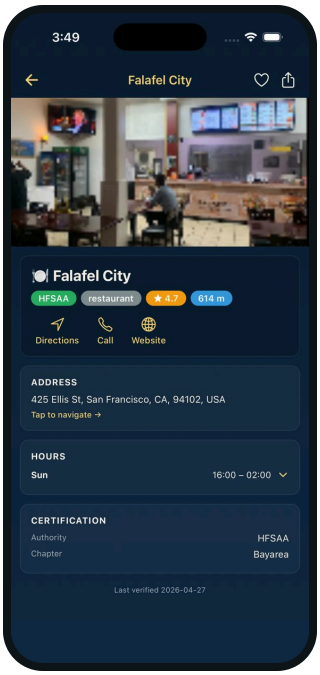

HALAL PLACES

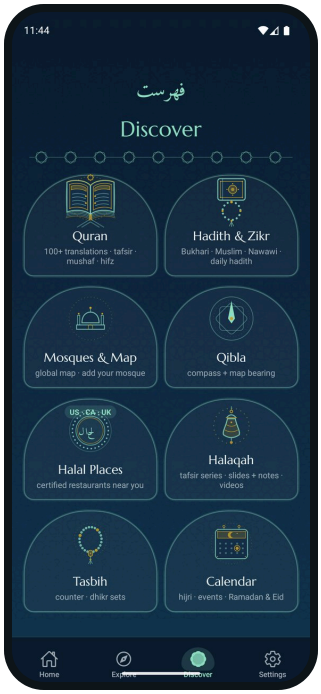

Certified halal, near you

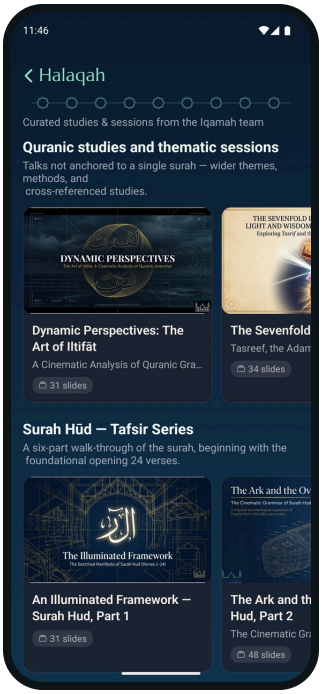

More than 1,000 restaurants, butchers and grocers, listed only when a recognised authority certifies them: HFSAA and HMS in the United States, HMA in Canada and HMC in the United Kingdom. Never unverified, crowd-sourced listings.

- Filter by category, cuisine, distance, rating, price and opening hours.
- Call, open the website or get directions in one tap, and save your favourites.
- Choose which certifiers you trust, and a minimum rating, in Settings.

HALAQAH

Learn with the Halaqah

Study sessions from the Iqamah team: tafsir series such as the six-part walk-through of Surah Hud, and thematic sessions on the Quran's language and structure, each with its slides, notes and recordings. They are also on the web at iqamah.org/resources.

CALENDAR

The Hijri calendar

The Islamic calendar side by side with the Gregorian one, with the month's events and Ramadan and Eid, and a correction of a day or two to match your local moon sighting.

DISPLAY MODE

A display for the desk

Turn your phone or tablet sideways on Home and it becomes a prayer display: the medallion, today's times, your masjid's board, an ayah and a hadith, one at a time. Tap the lock to keep it, and the screen stays on with the full adhan at every prayer. It is a good use for an old tablet on a shelf at home or at the masjid entrance.

Your masjid's board, between the day's times, ayah and hadith.

During the adhan, each phrase in Arabic with its meaning.

The adhan's words

As the adhan plays, the display shows each phrase as it is called, in Arabic with its meaning in your language. Afterwards it shows the dua said after the adhan.

A display that recites

Tap Recite to choose a surah, the Ruqyah or the Manzil, and a reciter. Or schedule it: at a set time, or around a prayer, fifteen minutes before Maghrib, say.

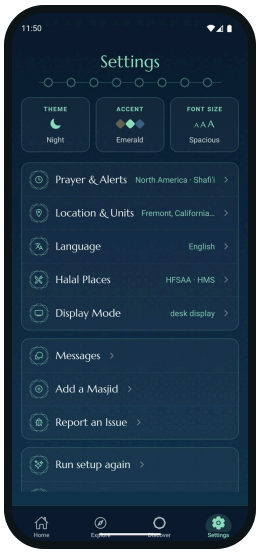

Runs on its own

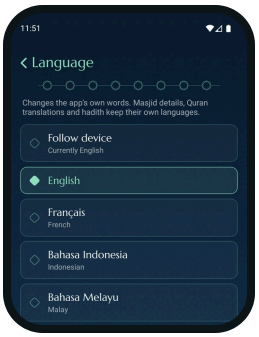

Scheduled recitation runs while the display is locked and pauses for the adhan. Open it from Home, from Discover, or from Settings as Display Mode.

SETTINGS

Make it yours

- Theme: light, dark (night) or follow the system.
- Accent: several colour palettes, from emerald to amber.
- Font size: larger text presets, and the app respects your phone's own text size.
- Language: English, French, Turkish, Indonesian or Malay, or follow your device.
- Directions: open directions in the maps app you prefer.
- A guided setup and a tour when you first open the app, both there again any time in Settings.

Is a time wrong? Tell us.

Masajid change their iqamah times, and they don't always tell us. If a time or a detail looks wrong, report it from the masjid's page or from Settings › Report an Issue. If your masjid is missing, use Add a Masjid. Our reply arrives as a notification and waits for you in Settings › Messages.

WIDGETS

Prayer times without opening the app

Iqamah's widgets put the next prayer on your Home Screen and Lock Screen, drawn as the same medallion you see in the app.

iPhone and iPad

- Next Prayer: the medallion with the prayer you are in and the time left. Larger sizes add today's times and your masjid's iqamah.
- Next Prayer Time: a Lock Screen square with the next prayer and the time it begins.
- Lock Screen ring: the day's ring with the name of the current prayer.
- Qibla: the direction to the Kaaba, at a glance.
- Daily Reflection: the day's ayah and hadith.

Android

- Next Prayer and Daily Reflection widgets for the Home screen. The Next Prayer widget can be added straight from Settings.

APPLE WATCH

Iqamah on your wrist

On Apple Watch, Iqamah has four pages: today's prayers, the Daily Reflection, the Qibla and a tasbih. It works the times out itself, so it carries on, and still alerts you, when your phone is not nearby.

Complications for your watch face

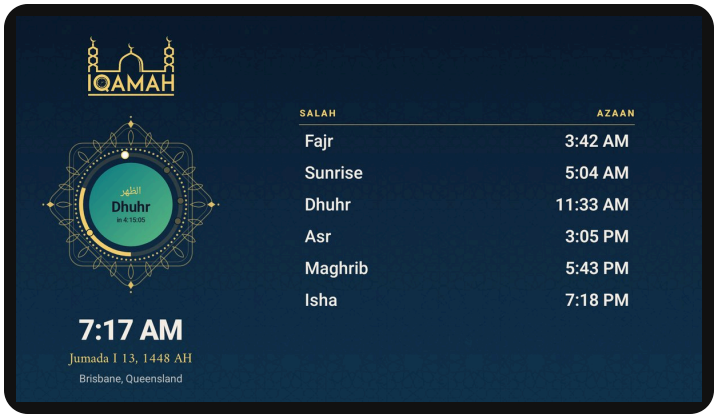

- A countdown to the next prayer, and your masjid's next iqamah.
- The Hijri date and the Qibla.
- The time for Tahajjud, and suhoor and iftar when you fast.

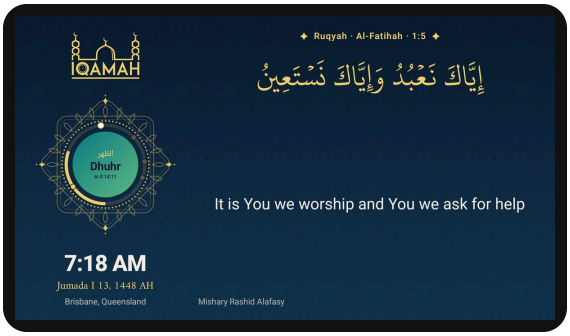

In the iPhone app, Settings › Watch Face shows how to add them.

IQAMAH TV · ANDROID TV, GOOGLE TV AND FIRE TV

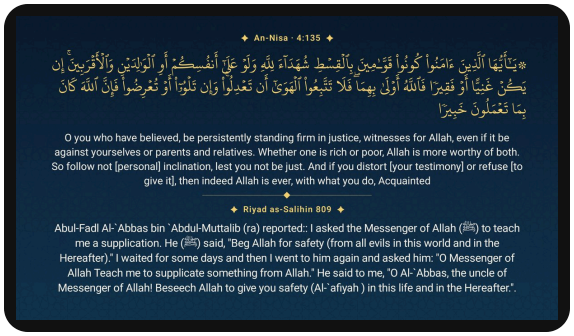

Iqamah TV, for the masjid and the living room

Iqamah TV turns a television into a prayer-time display for a masjid, an Islamic centre or your home. Today's salah and azaan times are on screen all day, with the current prayer counting down to the next. Choose your masjid, and its iqamah and Jumu'ah times come straight from its Iqamah listing.

Recite any surah, the Ruqyah or the Manzil, ayah by ayah.

The day's ayah and hadith, between prayers.

Prayer times and your masjid

Azaan times for your location and method, your masjid's iqamah and Jumu'ah boards kept current, and the azaan at every prayer, with the Fajr azaan at Fajr.

Quran and reminders

Recitation on demand or scheduled around a prayer, pausing for the azaan. The masjid's announcements and posters, and Halaqah sessions with their slides.

Made for the TV

A six-step setup, then it runs unattended. It opens when the TV turns on, or can be a TV box's home screen. Works with the remote's arrows and OK.

Iqamah TV speaks English, Arabic, Urdu, French, Turkish, Indonesian and Malay, with Arabic and Urdu fully right to left. Get it on Google Play for Android TV and Google TV, on the Amazon Appstore for Fire TV, or as a direct download at iqamah.org/tv.apk. Samsung and LG TVs are coming.

FOR MASJIDS · FREE

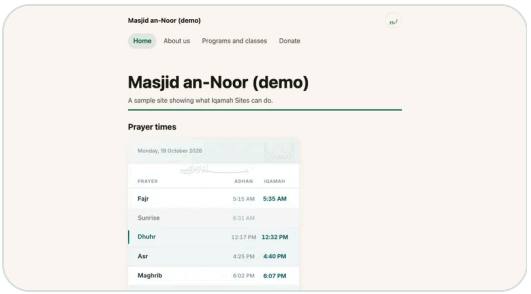

Free tools for your masjid

Run a masjid, or know someone who does? Iqamah gives every masjid a free website, a prayer-times widget for the site it already has, and a place in the Iqamah app, all kept current from one place.

IQAMAH SITES

A complete masjid website, in minutes

- Free at yourmasjid.iqamah.net, or on your own domain such as www.yourmasjid.org.
- Three designs, Minaret, Courtyard and Lantern, made for phones first.
- Eight languages: English, Arabic, Urdu, Bengali, French, Indonesian, Malay and Turkish, with Arabic and Urdu right to left.
- Live adhan and iqamah times, Jumu'ah, announcements, classes and programs, donations, and pages for Ramadan (a 30-day suhoor, iftar and taraweeh timetable) and Eid.
- Share to WhatsApp and Facebook, download Instagram cards, and print a noticeboard poster with a QR code.
- Live the moment you publish, and easy to find on Google.

ONE UPDATE, EVERYWHERE

Set your times once

Set your iqamah times once, with rules that follow the clock changes through the year. They update on your website, in the Iqamah app and on Iqamah TV in the masjid's hall. A masjid that publishes a free Iqamah website appears in the app with its times, without filling in a form.

PRAYER-TIMES WIDGET

Already have a website?

Put Iqamah's live prayer and iqamah table on the site you already have, on WordPress, Wix, Squarespace, Webflow or plain HTML, with one line of code.

IN THE APP

Your masjid, in every pocket

Your community sees your iqamah and Jumu'ah times on Home, on the map, in Nearby masajid, in widgets and on the watch, and can report a time that looks wrong.

Start at iqamah.org/configure.html. No paid tiers and no credit card, and no ads on any masjid website.

LANGUAGES

In your language

Iqamah speaks to Muslims around the world. Masjid details, Quran translations and hadith keep their own languages, while the app's own words follow the language you choose.

WHERE	LANGUAGES
The Iqamah app	English, French, Turkish, Indonesian and Malay. Arabic and Urdu are on the way.
Iqamah TV	English, Arabic, Urdu, French, Turkish, Indonesian and Malay
Masjid websites	English, Arabic, Urdu, Bengali, French, Indonesian, Malay and Turkish
Quran	More than a hundred translations in 47 languages, and 13 tafsirs
Hadith	Arabic, with English, Urdu, French, Bengali, Indonesian, Russian, Tamil and Turkish
App Store and Google Play	Listings in English, French, Turkish, Indonesian and Malay

COMMUNITY

Find us on Facebook

Follow facebook.com/IqamahApp for new features, new masajid and new Halaqah sessions, and to share Iqamah with your masjid. Sessions and walk-throughs are also on YouTube at @iqamah-admin.

Questions, ideas or a time that needs fixing: write to us from Settings › Messages in the app, or at admin@iqamah.org.

OUR PROMISE

Free. No ads. Ever.

Iqamah is free to use, and free for every masjid. There are no paid tiers and no ads, not on masjid websites, not on the prayer-times widget, not on Iqamah TV, and not in anything to do with prayer times and masajid in the app.

WHERE WE ARE GOING

Built for a million masajid

Today Iqamah carries more than 8,800 masajid. It is built to carry every masjid in the world: a million masajid, each with its own free website, its times in the app, on the watch and on the TV in its hall, and its community a tap away. It is built to grow that far and still cost a masjid nothing, so that no masjid is too small to be found and none is asked to pay.

If you run a masjid, the best way to help is to make its free website and keep its times current. If you pray at one, tell the people who run it.

8,800+
masajid today

1,000,000
masajid we are built for

$0
for users and for masajid

0 ads

Get Iqamah

iPhone, iPad and Mac
App Store

Apple Watch
Comes with the iPhone app

Android
Google Play

Fire tablets
Amazon Appstore

Android TV, Google TV
Google Play

Fire TV
Amazon Appstore

Masjid websites
iqamah.org/configure.html

Halaqah resources
iqamah.org/resources

Facebook
facebook.com/IqamahApp

Website
iqamah.org